Approach and Overview

Public School Education Foundations Overview

Sample Mission Statement

To privately fund and support programs, materials, and opportunities that maintain, strengthen or enrich the students' environment and educational experiences

Public School Education Foundations Overview

- A grant-making entity that supports educational activities
- Required to comply with IRS regulations to enjoy tax favored status
- Separate legal entity from the public school system
- Typically governed by a Board of Advisors and employing an Executive Director
- Typically funded by public support, individuals and businesses
- Key activities include cultivating donors, managing grant requests, and building a culture of giving

Summary of Project

- Identify best practices of private and public schools that have vibrant and sustainable foundations to support specific educational projects
- Apply learnings from these institutions and other resources to Sycamore to create an outline of a model to establish and maintain a successful foundational for the benefit of the Sycamore community

Guiding Questions

1. What local and regional districts, both private and public, currently have highly functioning foundations?
2. How are these foundations managed from a personnel perspective?
3. How are specific projects determined for support?
4. How are funds raised raised for the foundation?
5. How have the most successful foundations been sustained?

How are these foundations managed from a personnel perspective?

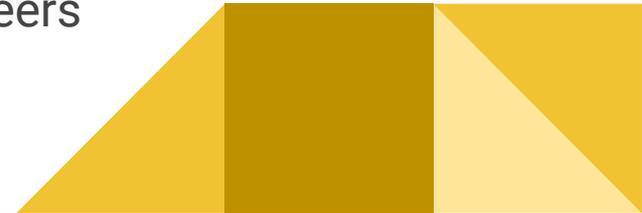

Many successful foundations started as volunteer and moved to paid staff

Foundation are managed by volunteers or full time staff or combination of both

Other Paid staff - Executive Director. Staff will coordinate school volunteers.

An executive director will typically be an experienced school fundraiser that is highly skilled and is a high paying position.

Our research clearly indicated that foundations that utilized paid staff were considerably more effective as raising funds than volunteers

How have the most successful foundations been sustained?

Culture of giving

Organization of teachers, current students, and parents plan and execute events to generate funds and keep contact lists current this also sustains the culture of giving

Technology

Technology helps find high net worth alumni, keep all alumni contact lists current, constantly be in contact with alumni

Talented experienced high skilled staff

How are specific projects determined for support?

Collection of ideas

Multiple methods; important factors are clarity of process & coordination with district stakeholders.

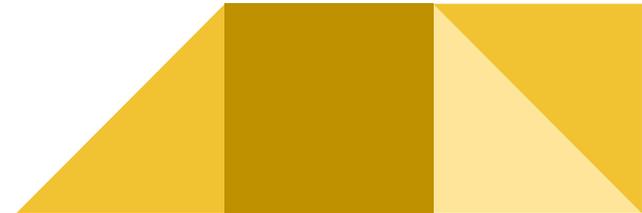

One foundation uses Suggestion Box in schools for teachers and Administrators. Another uses a grant submission form. Superintendent can identify. Foundation Board approves and manages requests.

Choices for funding

Established Foundations have a Grant Committee.

Collaborating with school leadership, a new grant funding process will be a catalyst for innovative initiatives

Consideration: Ecosystem of organizations - the foundation is intended to enhance the sources of funding for good projects

How are funds raised for the foundation?

- Annual Events for Alumni and other potential donors
- Campaigns gather contributions by Parents of Current and past students
- Local Businesses.
- Wealthy Donors
- Contact with Alumni - to raise awareness in the community and engaging donors.
- District may provide a portion of the funding in accordance with Ohio law.

Recommendations

Recommendations

We recommend that the Sycamore Community Schools take steps to promote and establish an education foundation

We suggest that current alumni activities (SAFA) be combined into that Foundation

Commitment

Rather than report our recommendations and then just go away, this Committee offers to work to develop a working model of the proposed Sycamore Education Foundation, and report that model to the School District within the next two months, and even beyond that timeframe, cooperate with the District in establishing the Foundation.
